The illustration shows two grey recycling bins for electronic waste. The bin on the left is labeled "Household battery only" and the one on the right is labeled "Bulb only". Both bins have small QR codes and contact information: Hotline: 3105 1608, Email: contact@alba-ewaste.sg. A blue speech bubble above the bins says "Recycle household batteries and bulbs here!". To the left of the bins, there's a white sign with the ALBA logo and the text "Drop your household batteries and bulbs for recycling here!". Above the bins, there's a sign from the National Environment Agency with the text "SCAN THE QR CODE BELOW FOR MORE INFORMATION ON E-WASTE MANAGEMENT" and a QR code. To the right of the bins, several types of batteries and lightbulbs are shown floating in the air: a long fluorescent tube, a compact fluorescent bulb, a standard incandescent bulb, and various sizes of AA, AAA, C, D, and 9V batteries.

The illustration shows a large grey recycling bin with three compartments. The top compartment is labeled "Bulb only" and "NO long fluorescent tube". The middle compartment is labeled "Household battery only" and "NO AA, AAA, C, D, 9V, 6F22, Button Cell". The bottom compartment is also labeled "Household battery only" and "NO AA, AAA, C, D, 9V, 6F22, Button Cell". To the left of the bin, there is a white sign with the ALBA logo and the text "Recycle household batteries and bulbs here! Drop your household batteries and bulbs for recycling here!". Below the sign, there is a phone number (3105 1608), email (contact@alba-ewaste.sg), website (www.alba-ewaste.sg), and Instagram handle (@alba_singapore). The background features various cartoon characters of lightbulbs and batteries interacting with the recycling bin. On the right side, there are several types of lightbulbs (fluorescent, LED) and batteries (AA, AAA, C, D, 9V) scattered around the base of the bin.
